Dr. Irena is a LIBERATOR. She is on a mission to liberate innovation, creativity and leadership within people and organisations. Innovation is unleashed when organisations are liberated from entrenched practices and out-dated processes. Creativity is unleashed when people are liberated from the mental shackles of default thinking and rigid mental models. Leadership is unleashed when individuals are liberated from constraints that stifle initiative and talent.

A highly experienced, qualified and respected corporate consultant, educator, mentor and professional speaker she knows what works and why when it comes to helping individuals and organisations grow and develop. She thrives on demystifying, enabling and facilitating innovation and creativity and is skilled at unlocking the enormous human potential that languishes within most organisations.

Dr. Irena has a rare combination of deep academic knowledge and real-world entrepreneurial experience. With a PhD in creative thinking and a Master’s degree is Adult Education, she is well placed to help leaders develop effective approaches to innovation and creative leadership. The result? Increased productivity, new business models, creative thinking and innovative outcomes.

Recognising that innovation and creativity are key success factors of the Twenty-First Century workplace, Dr. Irena has developed a suite of programs designed to build innovation capacity in organisations and nurture creativity in teams and individuals. She has also developed a ground-breaking psychometric tool to help people to identify their creative thinking style preferences which can be used to enhance personal and team productivity.

A sought after speaker and educator, she delivers keynotes and programs in Australia and around the world. Her clients come from every sector - large corporations; government departments at all levels – local state and federal; higher education institutions; schools; and SMEs. Her expertise was recognized by the Commonwealth Department of Innovation, Industry, Science and Research who awarded her a series of major competitive grants to work nationally with Australian manufacturers and businesses helping them to become more globally competitive through innovation.

A committed lifelong learner, Dr. Irena practices what she preaches constantly updating her knowledge and skills. This means that organisations that work with her have the benefit of cutting edge information, intel and insights about leadership, innovation and creativity to place them on the leading edge of a fast changing world.

Dr. Irena is a Certified Speaking Professional which is the pinnacle of achievement in the global speaking industry and your guarantee that you will receive only the highest quality experience. There are fewer than 600 CSPs in the world who represent the top echelon of globally recognised speakers.
LEADING IN THE INNOVATION AGE

The Twenty First century innovation age requires a new style of leadership. It requires leaders who can harness the collective resources, talents and wisdom of people in the service of organisational innovation. What new skills do leaders now need in a super-VUCA world? Find out in this entertaining and interactive keynote.

This presentation is based on Dr. Irena’s new book Leading in the Innovation Age. In it she unpacks the seven key leadership meta skills that enable leaders to create high-performing, highly engaged teams and workplaces fuelled by innovation and creativity.

Key ‘Take-Aways’ From This Presentation

- Why the new world of work requires a new style of leadership.
- What leaders need to do to avoid the perils of the innovation gap.
- The greatest risk facing organisations in a VUCA world and how to avoid it.
- How to create high performing teams excited about innovation.
- Balancing the need to think global but act local.
- The role of creativity, imagination, life-long learning, entrepreneurialism and big picture thinking in creating the workplace of the future.
- How to lead so as to unlock the vast reservoirs of potential that languish in most organisations.
- The role of life-long learning in the innovation age.
FROM WOW TO KAPOW: HOW TO TURBO-CHARGE YOUR CREATIVE THINKING!

How can we keep our thinking fresh and creative in the face of heavy workloads, time constraints and entrenched practices? How do we avoid the lure of established systems that we know work - in favour of new and innovative solutions that may fail? How do we creatively use our vast database of knowledge to solve complex workplace problems? Find out in this compelling keynote.

Creativity has emerged as the new core leadership competency but in most organisations there is a huge skills gap in this area. Discover some simple principles and tools that can close the gap and help to shift your thinking into high gear.

Key ‘Take-Aways’ From This Presentation

- Why creativity has become the new core leadership competency.
- Simple tools for kick starting and firing up your creative thinking.
- Escaping the shackles of ‘business as usual’ thinking to see and solve problems differently.

- Confidence in your creative abilities and how to further develop and celebrate your essential creativity.
SOLUTION CENTRED TEAMS: KEY TO THE PRODUCTIVE WORKPLACE

Understanding our creative thinking preferences is an essential first step to enhancing innovative outcomes, productive work relationships and team effectiveness.

Because different creative thinking styles have different approaches to problem solving and decision making, these differences among people can sometimes be the source of conflict if not understood. Such conflicts can lead to reduced productivity and less than excellent outcomes on projects requiring creative thinking. Understanding these differences and how they complement each other, can significantly improve a team’s productivity and innovation capability.

In this entertaining and informative keynote Dr. Irena shares her original and ground-breaking method for understanding different approaches to creative thinking, problem-solving and decision-making. Use this valuable knowledge to make you team more innovative and productive.

Key ‘Take-Aways’ From This Presentation

- Understand the four different creative thinking styles and their characteristics.
- How to identify your style and those of your team members.
- Essential insights for leaders in how to lead different thinking styles
- What drives thinking and behaviour within each creative thinking style and how to leverage that.
- How to use this insight to develop both individual and team aptitude for creative thinking.
HUMAN HELIUM: HOW INTRAPRENEURS HELP ORGANISATIONS TO SOAR

Intrapreneurialism is the act of behaving like an entrepreneur whilst working INSIDE a large organisation. It is the demonstration of business skills, personal leadership and creative problem-solving abilities that enables employees to find, explore and implement worthy ideas that enable the organisation to be future-ready and relevant. In a fast-moving world, intrapreneurs are a source of energy and creativity that propel an organisation forward because they are able to find and exploit innovation opportunities.

In this powerful keynote Dr. Irena reveals the essential ingredients for intrapreneurialism and how these can be used to equip people in your organisation with the mindset and tools to unleash their entrepreneurial spirit in the service of the organisation.

Key ‘Take-Aways’ From This Presentation

- Understand the three drivers of intrapreneurialism.
- How to take people on the intrapreneurial journey.
- A framework for nurturing the intrapreneurs within your organisation.
- How to get people thinking like intrapreneurs.
- How to liberate and harness the intrapreneurial talent of your people for the benefit of your organisation.
- How to avoid the #1 killer of intrapreneurialism in organisations.
Businesses today are needing to rethink their business models in the current age of innovation. The key drivers for business success are innovation and creativity! Businesses are realising that traditional models are no longer delivering the same returns and that ‘business as usual’ is the undisputed path to irrelevance. In this informative keynote find out how your business can be a successful global player in the new 21st Century landscape of the Innovation Age.

Key ‘Take-Aways’ From This Presentation

- Understand the new forces and drivers shaping 21st Century innovation.
- How to compete in global markets with a better business model.
- What are the different kinds of innovation and which is best for your business.
- How to drive innovation through the co-creation of products and services with customers and clients.
- How your business can find and exploit the opportunities in the new global landscape.
- The two richest sources of innovation in your business and how to tap into them.

What Clients Are Saying About Dr. Irena’s Keynotes

With her powerful and highly effective delivery style Dr. Irena was the ideal person to create the right tone for our conference themed Unleashing Potential. She captivated delegates with her presence by inviting audience engagement in the highly participative and interactive learning journey. Dr. Irena provided insight to the delegates on a range of practical tools and techniques on innovative thinking, and equipped our leaders with the skills that enable them to create more innovative, high performing workplaces. I would highly recommend Dr. Irena to any organisation that is seeking to unleash the hidden potential of their employees by allowing them to explore creativity that feeds innovation, and improves organisational performance.

Alister Cullen.
Executive Director, RoadTek Department of Transport and Main Roads.

Dr. Irena Yashin-Shaw presented a keynote entitled Shaping The Future Through Creativity And Innovation to over 300 delegates at the Interdepartmental Accounting Group conference in November 2015. Dr. Irena challenged us to be innovative and creative in our business areas, through the use of simple tools which she has developed. Her presentation was one of the highlights of the conference, and was practical, informative and empowering - prompting us to think about new ways of solving old problems through creativity. We received very positive feedback from our delegates and loved Dr. Irena’s interactive approach to her presentation. Dr. Irena was a fun, energetic and engaging presenter who added great value for everyone attending the conference.

Liz Wells.
President, IAG INC.

Thank you so much Irena for your keynote presentation at the Business Innovation and Improvement in Government Network Conference. Your keynote “Thinking Strategically in a World of Change” was extremely well received by our audience with people returning comments of “stimulating and informative” and “awe inspiring” and “vibrant and lovely” in the post event feedback. Similarly, your workshop on “Thinking Leadership” hit the mark with comments like “I learned many new and valuable skills” and “very interactive and fast paced”. It was a pleasure to deal with you from beginning to end of the very lengthy process that it has taken to get an event like this off the ground.

Rebecca Hannan.
Manager, Business Innovation and Improvement in Government Network, Qld Government.

I have had the pleasure of hearing Dr. Irena keynote at conferences on two occasions and both times she has impressed me with her breadth of knowledge on applying the concepts of Innovation to both business and education. Her innovative keynote, inspired and transformed the delegates - the feedback was outstanding. As a passionate innovator and educator, she is focused on bringing her unique perspective to every encounter.

L. Gregorc.
Manager, VET Development Centre.

Dr. Irena’s keynote provided a fresh, new and engaging perspective on the importance and benefits of innovation in the workplace. She set the scene throughout her presentation with logical processes and tips to not only get people to recognise the value of innovation and the barriers that prevent it, but also how to put in place systems and processes to unleash its immense potential for both government and commercial organisations alike. Her content is cutting edge and enlightening.

BEYOND BOUNDARIES: CREATIVITY FOR REAL-WORLD SUCCESS

Creativity is the new core leadership skill. By 2020 creativity will be number three on the list of top 10 workplace skills. However research shows that most organisations have a skills gap in this area. Fortunately creativity can be learnt and nurtured. We are all capable of creativity!

In this workshop discover how to access, apply and leverage your vast store of knowledge, understanding and wisdom to produce creative outcomes. Creativity is NOT the exclusive domain of the lone genius creating the next breakthrough idea. It is an everyday skill that can be developed and harnessed. It is the simple act of thinking about things in new ways to come up with fresh ideas that depart from established practices to add value.

Dr. Irena teaches a simple but powerful methodology for understanding, developing and utilising your creativity. Based on her ground breaking research into creative problem-solving she shares her Meta-Tool called StrateGEE®. Using StrateGEE® you will be able to generate, explore and implement your creative ideas more effectively. You will also discover your creative thinking style preference, how that influences your decision making and how you can use this knowledge to produce richer, more innovative solutions.

Key ‘Take-Aways’ From This workshop

- A clear plan for individual creative development.
- A deep understanding of how you approach the creative problem solving process.
- How to work with others to leverage creative thinking.
- The four different kinds of thinking that collectively produce creative outcomes.
- What we can do on a daily basis to avoid default thinking and unleash new ideas.
CREATIVE COLLABORATION: LEVERAGING POTENTIAL FOR PRODUCTIVITY PERFORMANCE AND PROFIT

Collaboration is at the heart of the innovative workplace. Unlock the enormous value for your organisation brought through collaboration and proactive knowledge sharing. Learn how to serve clients better, integrate service delivery and achieve more effective outcomes by opening the channels of communication internally and externally.

- Simple processes for opening the channels of communication that lead to productive collaboration.
- How to use collaboration to promote shared leadership.
- How to use collaboration to leverage your organisation’s resources and talents.
- The power of collaborative conversations.
- How to become an expert collaborator.
- Steps in how to work effectively with others to solve problems collaboratively.
- A collaboration process model for tapping into and developing creative problem-solving skills for innovative results.
- Eliminating the barriers to collaboration.
- Using team diversity as a collaboration strength.
FEEDING INNOVATION WITH SOLUTION-CENTRED TEAMS

This workshop develops creative teams who can celebrate their diversity and capitalise on their mix of creative thinking styles. In a world where creativity has become a core skill it is imperative that people understand their own approaches to creative thinking and how to work with people who have different styles.

Key ‘Take-Aways’ From This workshop

- Questionnaire that identifies each person’s creative thinking style with accompanying individualised graph.
- Report and reference guide that explains each style.
- Understanding what drives decision-making and behaviour when solving problems for creative and innovative outcomes.
- How to harness the creative talent that resides within the team in the service of innovation.
- Clear plan for developing and extending individual and team creativity.
- Identification of skill clusters as well as gaps within team profiles and how to manage the profile.
- How to use this knowledge and insight to inform PDPs, Performance Appraisals and project team constituency.
PRESENTING COMPLEX CONTENT CLEARLY AND CREATIVELY

In an age of information overload how do you achieve ‘cut through’ for your important ideas? Today’s leaders often have to communicate complex information to diverse groups who are time poor. How then can leaders engage people with their content so that they not only ‘get it’ but ‘want it’?

In this highly acclaimed workshop, discover how to make potentially ‘Dry’ information interesting and absorbing using innovative preparation and delivery techniques. Be praised and admired next time you give a presentation. Win acclaim when you share your information with clarity and creativity.

Key ‘Take-Aways’ From This workshop

- How to design content for maximum impact, understanding and retention.
- How to ensure relevance and rapport by preparing strategically with your audience in mind.
- A personalised development plan.
- Influence others through the use of creative and clever metaphors, case studies and stories.
- Confidence in presenting professionally and persuasively.
- The art of visual story-telling.
- Comprehensive workbook.
What Clients Are Saying About Dr. Irena’s Workshops

Irena is a very professional and engaging speaker and workshop presenter, who brings true value and deep knowledge into her presentations. Irena has a warmth and friendliness that radiates out, such that when a group of strangers in a workshop come together they feel comfortable to interact and participate. This is a rare quality in a presenter. Irena clearly has a passion for bringing innovation and creativity into businesses. She has good analytical skills to assess company positioning and the areas requiring improvement.

S. Tannock.
Chief Engineer,
University of Queensland.

Dr. Irena has a presentation style that is engaging and thought provoking. I really enjoyed her ability to articulate the science behind what can be a somewhat ambiguous topic – how to innovate successfully to achieve tangible results.

S. Cristy.
Manager,
TransLink Division.
Department of Transport and Main Roads.

The content of Dr. Irena’s workshop was exactly what I needed. In our department, Innovation, has been a hot topic for a while and I found this workshop has really helped me to move some of my thinking about innovation into action. It has demystified innovation and given good ideas about how to create an innovative work place and build an innovative culture in my organisation. I will be recommending this to my colleagues. This was one of the most engaging workshops I have ever attended. The presentation style was varied and stimulating, to match the content.

T. O’Connor.
Regional Director,
Department of Communities. North Queensland Region

Dr. Irena Yashin-Shaw is one of the best in this space. She succinctly captures innovation and makes it “real” to leaders. From small “improvement” ideas to big ticket items, Dr. Yashin-Shaw takes participants through a range of tools, methodologies and concepts which are readily transferable into the workplace. The style of her workshop allows for cross-pollination of ideas and experiences which are shared in a constructive and honest manner.

K. Tully.

No organisation will be innovative without innovative leaders to drive positive change, continuous improvement and organisational adaptability. Dr. Irena works intensively with small groups of smart, committed leaders and emerging leaders upskilling them to be innovation drivers, champions and catalysts. This highly effective 3 month program inspires and instils in leaders new ways of thinking and doing that will promote creativity and innovation on three levels – individual, team and organisation. If you are ready to rejuvenate and re-energise the culture of your organisation start with The Innovative Leader Mentoring Program for your leaders.

Organisations today are desperately seeking teams that can solve challenges more creatively and collaboratively, that avoid default solutions and deliver better outcomes - faster. Organisations NEED to develop and better utilise the creativity, expertise and talent of their people if they want to achieve their organisational goals in the Innovation Age. The Solution Centred Teams Program uses a ground-breaking, research-based tool to help team members identify their creative problem-solving preferences, develop their creativity and leverage their inherent diversity to collaborate and problem-solve more creatively.

The Human Helium 3 month program is for those organisations who are ready to unleash the entrepreneurial spirit of their people for the benefit of the organisation and to create a critical mass of INTRAPRENEURS within their ranks. In a fast-moving world, intrapreneurs can be the source of energy, tenacity and creativity that helps an organisation to find and exploit change and innovation opportunities. They are the most valuable of all employees! They provide the ‘lift’ that helps organisations to SOAR! There are two versions of this program, for public and private sector organisations.

Leadership is going through a fundamental redesign at the moment. That is because we are living in the Innovation Age which requires a new style of leader. One that understands the importance of creating workplaces that are vibrant and future-focused, filled with people who are adaptive, life-long learners eager to participate in the innovation imperative. The Leading in the Innovation Age Program can be between 3 – 9 months in length depending on the depth of the dive you want your leaders to experience. Built on the key concepts of Dr. Irena’s latest book, the program shows leaders how to embed the Virtuous Cycle of Continuous Innovation so that innovation becomes the new normal.
What Clients Are Saying About Dr. Irena’s Programs

Dr. Irena Yashin-Shaw has extensive knowledge and understanding of innovation and how to create an environment within an organisation for innovation to thrive. There were immediate benefits for our organisation from Dr. Irena’s work with us. The benefits included enhanced communication and relationships across the organisation with much greater willingness of staff to contribute ideas and participate in making innovation happen; thinking differently about the challenges facing the QCT; increased confidence of staff in calculated risk taking and an increased capacity of staff to use different tools and process to develop options for innovative solutions. Processes were put in place to ensure the longevity of the program and that the innovation momentum is sustained. The leaders enjoyed Dr. Yashin-Shaw’s warm personality and her willingness to ensure their needs were met.

John Ryan.
Director. Queensland College of Teachers

Leading in a complex and constantly changing environment brings exciting, ongoing challenges. The Innovative Leader Mentoring Program has provided very contemporary insights and skills to enable me to see where innovation is critical in this new world, and how we can be responsive and adaptable. The program has opened a creative thinking process which has flicked a switch on how I see, and use, innovation. Prior to the program I didn’t really know how to use the creativity we all have, to engage in a different way with our teams, and help energise us towards clever and smart workforces. I can highly recommend Irena’s program, she is certainly dynamic and very tuned into the needs of the individuals in our program, I found there were many times where the light bulb came on. Our webinars and face-to-face sessions pushed us to think critically about where we were personally and where our teams are at. It was also a great networking opportunity with other leaders. Thank you Irena!

The StrateGEE Creative Thinking Style Preferences Tool was an excellent individual and team based assessment model. It was quick to implement, easy to understand and has provided significant insight for my team, not only as individuals, but also in identifying team gaps and areas for development. In only one hour I knew individual and our team’s creative thinking preferences. Within two hours the team was looking at strategies to develop into areas they are less comfortable in. These developments were incorporated into their individual performance appraisals and will be recalled when forming project teams.

Every audience, every workplace has unique requirements. So ALL our work is customised for every client. However if you need something that is custom built and tailored specifically for your context then, provided it is within my expertise, I will be happy to create something purpose built for your brief.

I am a knowledge designer and problem-solver and I relish the opportunity to constantly create and synthesise new ideas, packaged in new ways for breakthrough outcomes.

THE STEPS TO MAKING THIS HAPPEN ARE AS FOLLOWS

01 The Brief
I’ll take a detailed brief from you and the members of your team. We achieve clarity about:
• Your expected outcomes
• What problem we are solving
• The parameters we are working in.

02 The Collaboration
I'll do my research and thinking and design a preliminary solution. We collaborate to:
• Fine-tune the solution
• Incorporate new insights
• Ensure the work will deliver the desired results.

03 The Adaptation
We monitor, revise and recalibrate during delivery using a flexible design thinking approach.

“Irena demonstrated an exceptional ability to understand our needs and translate them into a fun, engaging and thought provoking event that kept everyone's attention for the whole day.” Paul Hodgson. State Director Enterprise Connect, Department of Innovation Industry Science and Research.

Dr. Irena’s latest book

LEADING IN THE INNOVATION AGE

Unleash knowledge, talent and experience to create an innovative workplace

Dr. Irena Yashin-Shaw

Dr Irena Yashin-Shaw’s mastery is in her ability to engage on the topic of innovation in an inspirational and fun way that is also practical and meaningful. Whilst many would connect the concept of innovation with the realms of entrepreneurs, Irena brings to life in this book the role of innovators within organisations - the ‘intrepreneaur’. Irena highlights the significant role that all of us can play as ‘interpreneurs’- shining a light on innovation opportunities within organisations.” Amanda Yeates. General Manager. Department of Transport and Main Roads. QLD.

“Dr Yashin - Shaw in Leading in the Innovation Age is addressing the commercial world’s greatest challenge, how to win the race to the future? I loved it, well written, easy to read and practical.” Matt Church. Founder Thought Leaders Global. Author of ‘Amplifiers: The power of motivational leadership to inspire and influence.’

"The genius of Leading in the Innovation Age is its beguiling simplicity. Irena's book gently, but firmly, strips away any notion that innovation is a 'someday' proposition in our organisations. It challenges our belief that innovative work is only done by entrepreneurs, in start-ups or by techno-geeks. Instead, Irena reveals how everyday people - cubicle commandos in the Australian public and private sectors, small business, education and not-for-profits - are the secret sauce of innovation. Her book shows that, by supporting our people to build seven innovation meta-skills, our work will be competitive and commended in the Innovation Age.” Dr. Emily Verstege. Founder, Multiplicite. Author of ‘Getting to Awesome: A manifesto for building great stuff that people love to use

“In an uncertain and dramatically changing future, innovative practice will no longer be considered an optional extra. It will become a mandatory requirement, and the talented Dr Irena Yashin-Shaw is the one who can help you to implement this much-needed thinking for the future. If you are serious about innovation, then read this book. Her ‘Meta-Skills’ will make a profound difference to the professional world.” Tony Ryan. Educator and Futurist. Author of ‘The Ripple Effect’ and the ‘Thinkers Keys’.

“The future is here! If you don’t get on board, or you don’t know how, you will be irrelevant. This book shows us how to develop the skills we need to thrive in the Innovation Age. An easy read that demonstrates exactly why Dr Yashin-Shaw is a leader of leaders.” Dr. Amy Silver. Leadership and high performance expert.
